A Dog Trainer's Resource

Bud Houston's Country Dream

A wonderful dog training experience in rural Ohio for obedience and agility

We're located just 15 miles from I-77 in southeastern Ohio. Surrounded by lovely, privately-owned farmland and woods, our 28 acres includes a 1-acre pond, two cabins, our log home, and a brand new 62' x 120' training building with a soft, clean floor (stall mats on packed sand).

Guests are welcome to stay in cabins in our quiet, secluded woods. Your group may use one or both cabins during your training retreat for shared dinners, video-watching sessions, campfires and to generally enjoy nature with your dogs.

It's easy to make arrangements for your dog-training retreat or vacation! First talk with your friends and choose the weekends that will work for you. Call or email Marsha to reserve the weekend.

Invite Yourself to Country Dream

Our offering is unique in the dog training world both for agility and for obedience. Whether you are a back yard dog trainer or run a local dog training club... consider us an extension of your own facility and capabilities.

Beyond offering weekly classes for the private dog training enthusiast, we also offer facilities, lodging, and training for groups of nearly any size.

We are completely flexible and able to shape your training experience exactly as you require. You might send a group for a four-hour semi-private lesson or for four days of intensive training. In fact, if you simply want to use the facility for a few days, including the training facility, lodging, 1 acre pond, and 28 acres of rural wilderness as a retreat for your group, we are happy and willing to oblige.
